

Indaian has a very aggressive "Do Not Call" law that has greatly improved on the number of unwanted telephone solicitations that this household receives. Prior to this law, it was not unusual to receive up to 5 unwanted calls a day. Now the rate is about one per month. The federal government should not diminish the effectiveness of this much needed law.